(:05)

Every year, children die from heatstroke in cars. If you see a child left unattended, call 911, immediately.

(:10)

Every year, children lose their lives to heatstroke in cars. If you see a child left unattended call 911, if the child is unresponsive, do what it takes to get him or her out safely.

(:15)

Every year, children lose their lives to heatstroke after being left behind in a motor vehicle. If you see a child left unattended and can't locate their parents, call 911. If the child is unresponsive, do whatever it takes to get him or her out safely. It's up to all of us to be a hero.

(:30)

Every year, children lose their lives to heatstroke after being left behind in a motor vehicle. It only takes a moment for a car to heat up to dangerous levels, even on cooler days. If you see a child left unattended and can't locate their parents, call 911. If the child is unresponsive, do whatever it takes to get him or her out safely — including breaking the window. Heatstroke is deadly, it's up to all of us to be a hero.
